Bow Island North

The Mayberry header crew, were cutting grain on Bruce Marden's ranch this week, finishing on Thursday evening.

Mr. Chas. Thompson has started to cut a good field of greenfeed oats on his farm.

Sam and Nels. Albertson intended cutting their wheat Friday, but owing to the green condition of the heavier patches they deemed it wiser to leave it for a week or two to ripen.

Art Lindquist is plowing his entire farm holdings, Russell Evans is helping him, they are using triple gang disc plows and reports favourably on their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Marden visited Mrs. H. Thompson last Sunday.

The Peterson Bros. of Grand View Farm are to be envied indeed, they have a stock of feed in nearly every direction one looks, to say nothing of a snow full, their ponies and horse cows, won't worry next winter how cold it gets.

Mr. Adair was helping Mr. J. B. Politt last week.

The river rose and fell about every day or two last week, owing no doubt to previous rains having fallen North and West of this District.

We hear Mr. T. Ingelsby is earnestly hoping for an Irrigation Scheme on his farm by the river his only draw back is a 300 ft. lift from river to the main ditch, necessitating an extremely high powered engine, the representative of the Canadian Fairbanks Morse Co. Calgary visited the ranch of Bruce Marden and marvelled that such a project had not been installed long ago with only 20 ft. to lift water to the main ditch and a level stretch of river bottom to cover, it lies favourably to install a system at a much less costly outlay than one of 50 or more feet above the level of the river. We hear that Bruce has about completed arrangements to install a pumping plant in the near future.

RED CROSS NOTICE.

There will be a Meeting of the Red Cross members in the Rest Room next Wednesday 3rd. September at 3 p.m. All members are asked to make an earnest endeavour to be present as a good meeting is hoped to be held.

URGENT, URGENT! GOVERNMENT RELIEF Is Urgently Needed in These Districts

The truly deplorable condition of hundreds of our Farmers in our own and surrounding Districts, calls for the immediate and most Generous help from the Provincial and Dominion Governments.

The Government should remember, that it is only by the Toils and Perseverance of these Farmers, that this great Western Province has been made anywhere fit for a White man to live in; and any past prosperity that has been enjoyed, was only obtained by the endless labours, trials and often severe privations of our heroic pioneer Farmers.

Can we picture a Minister of the Crown or a Member of Parliament doing even a quarter of the good for our Canada, that the tireless Farmers uncompensated do every day of their lives?

No, we cannot even for one moment imagine it.

Therefore these Farmers who are the Backbone of our Canada, should not through any Political jugglery be deserted in this their hour of Urgent need.

They can most rightfully demand that the Brotherly hand of real Assistance be extended to them, and that Right Now.

Farmers Must UNITE

The only way that the Farmers of Canada (or indeed of any Country) can get full justice done to them, is by solidly uniting and entering into Politics and selecting their own Candidate, from every Constituency in Canada to represent them in Parliament, and so frame the Laws, that the Farmer shall receive the full value for all his work and Produce.

Already the two chief Political Parties, Liberals and Conservatives, are afraid of a Strong Political Farmer's Union in Parliament, and are already offering nice terms for the Farmers to drop having a Farmer's Candidate for Parliament.

Farmers! don't be misled, stick up for your rights and select a good man as your Own Representative in Parliament. Remember, the Farmer is and always will be, the "King of the Earth."

The Government can easily find out the Farmers in Urgent Need of Assistance, by getting in touch with our various Municipalities, Banks and Farmers' Organizations such as the Grain Growers and our own branches of the U. F. A.

The man that says that the Farmers do not need urgent assistance now; is either incompetent; very ignorant; or a wilful liar.

These Farmers are not Loafers or Hoboes, they are men of "real grit and sterling worth", men that any country should be proud to own as citizens and earnestly strive to hold them to these parts of this Province, for in the past have they not made the Wilderness to Blossom as the Rose and to persuade Nature to produce abundant Harvests, alike to the glory of God and man?

But the drought of the last Three Years was completely beyond their control, therefore it is now up to the Government to at Once help our Farmers, because it is good Business; good Political Diplomacy; and finally are we not Our Brother's Keeper?

"For one touch of Nature makes the whole world kin."

What would the position of the Government be, if no substantial Assistance is given to our Farmers very soon?

Why our Farmers will desert these districts, there will be no Production and very soon the Eastern Manufacturers will find there is no trade from here and then naturally they will vent their anger on the Government for not acting sooner and then goodbye to the present Government.

Control Sugar Prices In United States

Washington—Active control of sugar prices was resumed by the government through an agreement reached between the department of justice and the food administration, that licenses will be revoked by the latter when it is shown dealers have been profiteering. Sugar should reach the consumer at approximately 11 cents a pound, it was announced, based on the canebrake of the entire domestic and Cuban crop by the United States sugar equalization board, which is selling to refiners at 7.28 cents a pound.

Refiners are under contract with the board to sell at nine cents, less two per cent. discount for cash; wholesalers and jobbers are allowed a maximum of 68 cents a hundred pounds for handling, and retailers are permitted a profit of one to one and one-half cents a pound, making a fair price of 11 cents except in cases where dealers have purchased at an "unreasonable" price due to misunderstanding in the trade. When this is a fact, a reasonable allowance over the actual cost will be permitted.

With the house agriculture committee's amendment for extension of the powers of the Food Control Act before it, the house was prepared to take action on the amendment, and thereby make its first extensive step toward beating down living costs. The amendment, which was reported to the house by an unanimous vote, includes retailers among those who are liable under the Food Control Act and its enactment, along with the control exercised over sugar, officials believe will do much to curtail profiteering by retailers.

Divorces in Manitoba

Winnipeg—An announcement made at the law courts states that there are over eleven hundred divorce applications filed for hearing when the court of King's Bench opens for the fall sittings, September 15.

Six judges will be occupied hearing the cases. In the majority of cases the divorce applications are being made by soldiers who have returned to find their wives have been unfaithful. The cost of obtaining a divorce is from $200 up, according to lawyers.

Ask Intercession for Absentees

Quebec—At a meeting of the national trade and labor council it was decided to ask His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to intercede to obtain a general amnesty for absentees under the Military Service Act.

Harvesters Create Disturbances

Pillage Town, Fire Drape and Stone Passenger Train en Route
Riviere du Loup, Que.—A trainload of young men, numbering between 800 and 900, belonging to different parts of the district, and who were leaving for the West to work on the farms during the harvest, created serious disturbance on the train, also robbing and pillaging in this town. One shop being relieved of $300. At St. Andre de Kamouraska they set fire to the station, which was under control before serious damage occurred. Other offences were committed at other places along the road, among them being the stoning of passenger trains. Detectives were finally placed aboard and the train proceeded to its destination, no arrests being made.

"Away With Erzberger"

Berlin—Under the slogan "Away With Erzberger," the National Liberal party staged a noisy meeting of protest, in which the speakers subjected the Minister of Finance to a vicious verbal grilling. Erzberger's activities from the time he conducted the armistice negotiations down to the present enactment of radical measures of the council, as it had been thought the Austrian delegation had full powers. The council is urging the Austrians to make some arrangements to sign the treaty without taking it to Vienna.

This suggestion brought expressions of surprise from members of the council, as it had been thought the Austrian delegation had full powers. The council is urging the Austrians to make some arrangements to sign the treaty without taking it to Vienna.

The signing of the treaty, as a result of this unexpected development, it was said, may be postponed until well into September.

Citizens Would Prosecute Prince

Berlin—At a meeting of the citizens of Berlin, a suburb of Berlin, there was a discussion of the conduct of Prince Friedrich Leopold, cousin of former Emperor William, who, like Count Hohenlohe, remained there instead of leaving the country. It was alleged that he had engaged in illicit trading on a large scale and had hoarded large quantities of food. Local authorities recently searched his castle, confiscating great quantities of food, which were distributed among hospitals, but when they attempted to bring action against the prince they were told from authoritative quarters that he was immune, being a member of the royal family.

Italian Troops Enter Hungary

Paris—Italian troops are on their way into Hungary, according to reports received here. No details of the movement were given.

Strike in Miramichi Mills

Newcastle, N.B.—Practically every mill on the Miramichi has been tied up by a strike among the workers. Men employed loading the steamers have struck for a nine-hour day and 65 cents per hour.

Increased Wages For Telegraph Operators

Reduction in Working Time and an Advance of $10 and $12 Are Granted By Board

Montreal—Substantial increases in wages are accorded the telegraphers of the C.P.R. telegraphers by an award handed down by the Canadian railway wage board, adjustment number one. An increase of $10 a month is given to Morse operators, "all outside points," and $12 a month to the percentage group, the latter are the category groups and Vancouver.

The wages in these three percentage groups will now be $133.25, $129.60 and $122, with a minimum over the entire system of $100 a month, with the exception of city branch offices (read only) where the minimum will be $75 a month, and also at one or two specified points.

An eight-hour day will be worked in all outside large center offices, a reduction of $10 a month, and in future the clerks are to be included in the wage adjustment.

In the present arrangement, however, the amount of wages of the clerks was not decided, but will be dealt with on September 10.

Austrians And Their Treaty

Are Wanting to Take It Back to Vienna

Paris—The Austrian delegation held a meeting of the council, that it would be necessary for them to take the complete text of the treaty to Vienna, and to submit it to the assembly for approval before delegates can sign it.

This suggestion brought expressions of surprise from members of the council, as it had been thought the Austrian delegation had full powers. The council is urging the Austrians to make some arrangements to sign the treaty without taking it to Vienna.

Why Britain Sets Low Wheat Price

Winnipeg—In an interview on the price of $130 set by Great Britain for Canadian wheat, W. S. Evans, who represented the millers at recent conferences at Ottawa, said: "The situation is quite simple. The price of $130, mentioned in the cable, has, unfortunately, to my mind, nothing to do with the price at which the British Government will purchase wheat, but the price at which it will sell, in conformity with its policy to ensure the cheapness of food for British subjects. The difference between the purchase price and the price necessary to allow for the turning out of the four-pound loaf for the Canadian wheat, grading No. 1 northern, cannot be made into bread for ninepence a loaf. Last year, it cost Great Britain $235,000,000, the difference between the price it had paid for wheat and the price it had to pay for flour. It was well to allow for the ninepence a loaf, but there were charges for wheat which had less than the purchase price.

"The $130 mentioned in the cable is the resale price. The cable, in my judgment, has nothing to do with the price at which the British Government will purchase at whatever price it can get the wheat, and then sell at a resale price of $130 in England.

"It has been doing it before. It has in the past spread the difference over wheat and flour. Now it is all placed on the wheat. The government decided to subsidize the loaf and placed it all on the wheat, which will represent the ninepence loaf."

U. S. Government Brings Down Prices

Washington.—Attorney-General Palmer said there was evidence that the government campaign to reduce the cost of living already was bearing fruit. A prominent vegetable packer of Maryland wrote Mr. Palmer that in many lines of business beginning to ease off, as it became evident the department of justice was not hesitating in announcing that criminal prosecutions against hoarders and profiteers would be instituted where the laws were violated.

The attorney-general and Judge Ames, his assistant, drew distinctions which they said the public should recognize between hoarded food and stored food. The former is held out of the market in greater quantities than required for the owners' business for the purpose of forcing up the market.

The latter is surplus, being hoarded for the harvest in the lean season. Reports to the attorney-general from state food administrators indicated that fair price boards rapidly were being set up in many states and were proceeding to get pledges from dealers to abide by the prices promulgated for the guidance of the public.

The department of justice announced that eleven cases had been brought under the Food Control Act for seizure of food in Columbus, Ga., St. Louis, Detroit, Chattanooga and Kansas City.

Greeks Ask for Protection

London—Salubri representatives of 35,000 Greeks, the Athlone district of the Caucasus have telegraphed the peace conference requesting protection against Turkish soldier brigades, who, with Ezerum as a base, are holding massacres of the Greeks, there, accompanied by much pillage.

Miners Talk of Five-Day Week

Sydney, N.S.—The five-day week, demand for a 25 per cent. increase in wages and several other matters of prime importance to the coalfields, the miners and the province in general will be taken up at the big mining convention which is to meet in Sydney this week.

To Protect Britain From Profiteers

Fixed Price Of Wheat

If World Market Price Realizes More Produce to Get the Benefit

Ottawa—Telegrams and communications received by the government, as well as comments made by brokers and others interested in the wheat trade, indicate that the government's action in fixing an initial price for wheat to be paid to the farmers by the wheat control board is still misunderstood in many quarters. It is assumed by many quarters that the initial price of $215 announced by the government is a fixed price, and that no matter what the price of wheat may be the farmers will not receive more than that figure. On behalf of the government it was pointed out to a representative of the Canadian Press, Limited, that in the case of the Canadian farmer, he gets what the market of the world will give him. If the price of wheat should go to $230, $240 or $250, the farmer will get the benefit. On the other hand, in the United States where a price has been fairly fixed, the farmer will simply get the fixed price.

The object of the government, it was further explained, was not to limit to any price or estimate the price that the farmer should obtain, but rather to make sure that he should receive the highest possible sale price for his crop. The government through the Canadian wheat board undertakes to set the surplus crop, not at a fixed price, but at the best world price available, and to turn back to the farmer fees from all speculative and profiteering charges the balance of the price received for his grain over and above the initial payment of $215.

It was further pointed out that the United States price was far below the war was over, on the assumption that the world could not continue. Had that not been done it is not regarded as probable that the United States would have made a fixed price, but as it is, the United States farmer gets the fixed price, and the world's.

Why Shoes Are High

Boston, Mass.—Doubtless in the high cost of shoes by the Suffolk county grand jury developed that some shoe workers have been earning $120 a week. These instances were said to be, but it was testified that many made $60 a week, while the average was about $40. Unskilled help, formerly paid at $12 to $15 a week, have profited most, last boys getting as much as $30 a week. It was said that a pair of shoes sold by a manufacturer for $5.50 was displayed in a store four hundred yards from the factory marked at $12.

Inheritance Tax Bill Passed

Weimar, Germany.—The assembly has passed the inheritance tax bill. The members of the Right voted against the bill. They particularly opposed the paragraph inserted in committee which makes the tax on estates exceeding 150,000 marks greatly increased and in some cases doubled.

Karl Muck Departs

New York—Dr. Karl Muck, former leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra, who was ordered interned as an enemy alien May 5, 1918, and during that time, has been at the steamship Frederick VIII, for Copenhagen.

A rubber factory is to be established at Collingwood, a suburb of Vancouver.

London—Trenkley Lloyd George has written to the press to the effect that the discussion of certain highly controversial points in his recent speech in the House of Commons has obscured other parts which are of vital concern to the country and deserve a department of standards to permit is asked to legislate thereon.

He accordingly furnishes a summary of the government's program as set forth in his speech, adding several proposals, to which he says he did not have time to refer to in his speech. One proposal is to establish a department of standards to promote and assist standardization in technical trade matters, which he regards as increasingly important to British industry.

Another point is his intention to introduce legislation to secure adequate measures permanently to protect the public from the harmful effects of trusts and combinations, should such protection become advisable. His discussion of this subject in his speech referred to only a period of six months under the Profiteering Act.

Employment For Returned Men

There Should Be No Such Thing as the Soldier Problem

Ottawa.—The returned soldier problem, said Gen. Currie, during an address, had been brought to his notice since his return. He thought there was no such problem as soldiers, the business men of Canada to give the men a chance on their return.

He thought, that, instead of the returned soldiers creating any problem that was being done by the men who stayed at home getting four times as much money as soldiers, and then became afraid their big money might fall off during the recession period.

"Before the war," he said, Canada was able to absorb 500,000 immigrants yearly; surely we can absorb 500,000 returned men, who are your own brothers. Before the war they were an asset on their return. Not a returned soldier should go unemployed."

Railways and Daylight Saving

Ottawa.—The action of the United States congress in killing daylight saving over the President's veto is taken here to mean the simultaneous death of the system in Canada. Whenever the United States sets back the clocks, the Canadian railways will have to do likewise. The same argument that was used by them in adopting daylight saving last spring will apply to reverting to the old system at the same time as the Americans do it.

Bolshevik Cut Off From Base

London—Military authorities here point out that the occupation by General Denikin of the town of Cherkassy, on the Dnieper river, below Kiev, cuts the last remaining line of communication of the Bolshevik with Odessa.

The evacuation of Cherkassy has not yet been confirmed, but it is regarded here as probable that the Bolsheviks have left it.

Reist Holiday Proposal

Paris.—There is much discussion of a possible vacation for the peace conference, but this is bitterly opposed by many members, who insist that it is impossible for the conference to take a recess until the Austrians are disposed of at least. This probably cannot be before September 1.

No Waste Space

This attractive six-room house has no waste space and is at the same time an economical house. It is designed for one who does not care to spend very much money in a house and at the same time, it is a beautiful house. It is intended that there be a vestibule for the front entrance extending out on the veranda; this is not shown on this plan. The two front rooms can be made into one large room, which would extend across the whole front of the house, making the living room do for a dining room on occasion. Many families eat in the kitchen, ordinarily, so that this front room gives a chance to carry out the dining room idea. The arrangement which cannot be done in a house with a living room. The upstairs has three bedrooms and a bathroom. This house has side entrance which can be changed to rear entrance if desired.

Supply the Home Market First
Sydney, N.S.—Instructions have been issued to the refiners by the Canadian trade commission that all local demands for sugar must be looked after before this article is exported. Such was the gist of a telegram received by E. C. Kimber, secretary of the Sydney board of trade, in reply to a wire sent to the government.

Consumers to Fight Profiteers
Paris.—Citizens and housewives of the Montmartre district have formed the "consumers' league" of France to combat the high cost of foodstuffs. It is the intention of the founders to enlarge the league into the national league's federation, with members throughout the country.

McClary's Kootenay

TOP, bottom and all four sides of the Kootenay oven are evenly heated. That is why it is so famous as a dependable baker.
There is a thermometer, too, to tell whether the heat is right or not.

No range is quite so easily managed. Duplex grates clear the sides at a single turn. Burnished cast-iron top saves need for cleaning. Nickeled steel oven walls are kept clean with a damp cloth. Wall-fitted joints and dampers hold hot fire—and gas even heat—for hours.

Let us show you the Kootenay.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Royal Yeast has been the standard yeast in Canada for over 50 years, and it is a well known fact that bread made with Royal Yeast possesses a greater amount of nourishment than that made with any other.

Canada's Present Task

With the Peace Treaty formally approved by the parliaments of Great Britain and Germany, and in process of ratification in the United States, with Canada's parliament about to meet to signify its approval of the Treaty and with the Canadian army officially declared demobilized, the people of this Dominion are called upon to set themselves sternly to the task of fully restoring the country to a peace basis. In doing so they are confronted with many problems and burdens which are left to them as a legacy of the Great War, and these problems must be faced and solved and these burdens carried under entirely new social and industrial conditions which have been born in the minds and spirits of men during the period of the great upheaval through which we have passed.

Great as were the problems connected with the vigorous and successful prosecution of the war, they pale into insignificance when compared with the multitude of problems which peace, under these new world conditions, forces upon us. The lofty patriotism and spirit of self-sacrifice which animated the people of Canada during the war must continue with them in these even more difficult days of peace if Canada is not now to lose all that she so valiantly defended on the battlefields of Europe. It was comparatively easy to save for Canada, sacrifice for Canada, serve Canada in the dark days of war; it is going to be infinitely more difficult to do so now that the incentive to victory is removed. But it is just as vitally necessary to our national welfare and future now as then—even more necessary.

With a national debt of $200,000,000 upon which to pay interest and gradually liquidate, when no more is required annually for pensions, with other great national obligations to carry, all the expenditure for police services to be met, and provision made for great national undertakings required in the development for us of our natural resources, the eight million people of Canada have a task to perform which calls for the best in every man and woman, and each man and each woman must do his and her share if Canada is to succeed and prosper.

In a few weeks the people of Canada will be asked to subscribe to another large domestic loan, a loan which is necessary to pay off the remainder of the Dominion's war debt and to enable the national government to carry on the business of the country in these unsettled times. It will probably be the last of these war loans, because Canada cannot go on borrowing indefinitely. The time is fast approaching when the supply of loans to the Government, but in the payment of taxes the people of Canada will have to meet all national expenses, as well as provide a certain amount annually wherewith to reduce the national debt.

Canadians must face that necessity, and it is well that they should begin to prepare for it now. Canada's obligation to its own people and to the world by becoming a nation of producers in a larger way than ever before is tempted. The natural resources of this country, vast and rich as they are, have to be, but as yet largely undeveloped, must be developed for use. By their development alone can the necessary wealth be produced which will enable Canada to "carry on" successfully and prosper.

It is incumbent, therefore, on all Canadians to set themselves seriously to the task of ascertaining where and how they can best employ their abilities and energies in the work of production. On the farm, in the mine and forest, in the fisheries and in the factory, Canadians must develop industry and energy, "races" they must pay, heavier than of the past, and unless they produce something which will add to their own and the country's wealth, they will be in no position to pay. Canadian boys paid for Canada's independence and well-being by their life's blood during the past five years; the Canadian man must pay for Canada's honor, well-being and future prosperity and greatness by the full use of brain and brawn in the years of peace we are now to enjoy.

As the Montreal Star said in a recent issue, "The 'New Order of Canada,' Canadians must go forward with a new, better, a larger outlook. 'Surely,' says the Star, 'with the mantle of legacy of debt that the war has bequeathed to us we would be wise to put away childish things, forget old quarrels which belong to the political nursery and face with courage and dignity the things that make for our peace and our strength. The peace treaty is no solution in the creed of destruction and no hope for men or nations save in industry, sanity, confidence, and co-operation. Canada needs People, Production and Development. If we would concentrate upon these vital problems a multitude of lesser problems would settle themselves and we would begin to prove ourselves worthy of the great industrial and political power which the Great War, a world in anguish and travel reveals to us clearly that like unity, courage and devotion to vital things are needed to hold the civilization that we thought was upon the red fields of Europe. Let us not relax into a state of trivial war and spend ourselves in the petty partisan quarrels and ignoble contentions which fill too many pages of the political history of Canada. It has failed miserably. I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.'"

Turks Make Protest

Constantinople. — The American Consulate charged with an investigation in Turkey regarding possible imminence has concluded its work so far as the Armenian question is concerned. The commission, it was said, will go now to Smyrna and Adenople and will conclude its work in about two weeks.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IS A SERIOUS BOWEL TROUBLE

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it. You can't tell when it seizes on you, how long it will last, or how to prevent it.

Allow the profuse diarrhoea, the vomiting, the purging to continue for a day, or two and you will become weak and prostrated. Just as soon as the bowels become loosened up, get a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and check these unnatural movements and thus prevent the system from becoming weakened.

Mrs. L. J. Allen, wife of the well known wholesale and retail Fish Dealer, 44 Hill St., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I have four children. The oldest being eight years old. Every summer they were troubled with Summer Complaint. Doctor's prescriptions did not seem to help them any. One day a friend advised me to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and to my surprise and wonder, I now saw a change in them. I now keep a bottle of it in the house all the time, and will recommend it to any one."

Dr. Fowler's is 35c. a bottle. Get the original which has been put up for the last 74 years by The J. C. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous for children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes the danger. The mother must be on her guard to prevent the trouble, and if it does come on suddenly to cure them.

The best medicine is of such aid to the mother as to enable her to keep her baby's own health. They regulate the stomach and bowels, and are so safe that they can be used by the mother or the nurse.

Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not be looking about for an alms to patch himself up with.

Money For Everybody

New Labor Programme Has Unique Scheme

London. — The latest thing in the labor programme of social reform is provision for a minimum income for every man and child.

Under the scheme, which is fathered by Arthur Henderson, secretary of the Labor party, and Mr. J. H. Cole, attached to the research department, twenty per cent. of all incomes would be nationalized at the source and paid in a pool which would be devoted solely to the provision of a permanent weekly income of £225 a week to everybody.

United States Sends Warning To Mexico

The Murdering of American Citizens Must Be Stopped

Washington. — The state department's announcement that President Carranza had been informed by this government that unless the Mexican government took immediate steps to put an end to the murder of American citizens in Mexico this government would be compelled to "adopt a radical change in its policy," in regard to that country, occasioned no small circles.

As was the case the other day, there was no official statement forthcoming to indicate the nature of the radical change foreshadowed. The United States government is in a position to act immediately when the President gives the word. Massed along the border or within 24 hours' rail journey of the border basis, at San Antonio, El Paso, Columbus, are eleven regiments of cavalry, seven of infantry, six of field artillery, seven of engineers, one machine-gun battalion, fifteen airplane squadrons, one balloon company, one battalion of signallers, seventeen pack trains, and sixteen units of mounted troops. In addition to the needed quota of special and technical troops.

The Carranza government will not be permitted to import further arms and munitions from the United States, for the present at least.

Advice Sir Douglas Haig Urges on the Country

Speaking as a man "who has seen much of the world," Sir Douglas Haig, adapted to our present-day needs the warning which Lord Roberts and the Daily Mail so repeatedly addressed to the country.

British Fixes Wheat Prices

London. — The wheat commission fixed the following prices for imported wheat: For 480 pounds Canadian, $14.40; United States, $12.96 to $14.50; untreated, $14.64; Argentine, $14.16.

Detained War Mail To Go Forward

Would Have Assisted German Army and Naval Plans

London. — The forwarding of mail detained during the war by the postal censor will be completed on August 30, the war office announces. The mail was held because its transmission would have assisted the German army and naval plans, increased the commercial and financial resources of the enemy or aided the far-reaching German political and commercial propaganda campaign.

The handing over of this delayed matter began on June 25. It is estimated that 630,000 pieces of mail were detained, of which 592,500 have been released recently.

Approximately 150,000 pieces of mail, originating in the United States or was going to the United States when it reached the censor's hands. Of the remaining matter that was held in or destined for the United Kingdom will be destroyed except the letters or packages containing articles of value and documents of importance.

In regard to mails routed over the United Kingdom to and from foreign countries and mails landed from neutral ships which entered British territorial waters it has been decided that pieces containing goods, currency, securities and other valuable papers will be put into prize court.

Commercial and private correspondence containing valuable documents will be released. Other private correspondence will be destroyed because of the great cost of re-examination. The war office statement added:

"The disposal of these delayed packages has been the subject of long and careful consideration. The decisions reached have been governed by a desire to guard the interests of neutral as well as allied nations, to avoid as far as possible injury to commercial firms and individuals and to avoid unreasonable expense."

Common Sense Toward Gerquany

Nations Against Germany Must Be So Strong That They Cannot Safely Be Attacked

If the Germans are raising an army now, beyond the limitations imposed by their crop damaged by drought, and their powers which they considered they would crush their new military training for every child. But if they wait until caution relaxes, and a new generation appears and until experience only whispers and no longer talks plainly, they may appear with an aggressive military force again. The only way in which a great nation can be kept disarmed at a long term of years is by the constant work of an army of occupation. Constabulary can keep the peace, but an army of occupation is necessary for the next hundred years. And an agreement or treaty cannot keep them disarmed. The nations against Germany must rely for protection against the Germany of the future, not on a strong that they cannot safely be attacked. That is not militarism. It is common sense. —Chicago Tribune.

Horses Versus Elephant

Tests made to determine the respective pulling power of horses, men and elephants showed that two horses weighing 1600 pounds could pull a 12-ton elephant, or 350 pounds more than their combined weight. One elephant weighing 12,000 pounds pulled 8,750 pounds, or 3,250 pounds less than its weight. Fifty men, aggregating 7,500 pounds, pulled 8,750 pounds, or just as much as the elephant. But the elephants, the horses, the pulled more than their own weight. One hundred men pulled twelve thousand pounds.

Filling His Own Shoes

Ruggles read on, so deeply absorbed in the account of the movements in the near Orient as to be quite unkind of the gay procession sweeping past him. Across the broad avenue groups of riders were dashing gaily along the equine path, monitors of every description whizzed along; face-drivers, cracked their whips, and on the wide footpath was the usual brightly colored parade of a cosmopolitan fashionable world and the usual sprinkling of smart nursemaids and governesses with their toddling charges.

An elderly French pair seated themselves on Ruggles's bench and engaged in an animated conversation. Ruggles finished his Balkan war news and, letting the paper fall upon his neatly trousered knee, watched with pleasure the kaleidoscopic crowd. He was sitting thus when a pleasant voice said in English—

"May I share the end of your bench, sir?"

Ruggles glanced up and saw a well-dressed, "wholesome" looking young man of about thirty, broad of shoulder and with a strong, kindly gleam of pleasant expression.

"Certainly," Ruggles answered, moving aside a little. "Sit down."

"Thanks," the young man seated himself, resting his glowing face on the cushion of his stick. For a moment or two he watched the glittering spectacle in silence; then he turned to Ruggles.

"A great sight," he observed. "Especially when you see it for the first time."

"Yes," Ruggles agreed, pleased to be addressed and noting that the other spoke with a pronounced English accent. "I guess you're not in this city in the world that got anything to beat the Avenue du Bois on a bright Sunday morning at this time of year."

"Believe you're right. There's such a lot of room—and that long sweep running right up to the Arc de Triomphe is right in the center."

A group of officers, beautifully mounted and in pale-blue tunics with scarlet breeches, cantered past. Ruggles's companion watched them with interest.

"Good-looking geyers," he commented. "Though I must say I don't like much the riding. Look at those chaps' boots."

"Some of them can ride, all right," Ruggles answered. "If you take to the horse-show, you'll see some snappy work. But all the same, they're not in the same class with our American cavalry when it comes to riding—or on anything else, I guess," he added patently.

"Yes. But I live here in Paris. I work for an American shoe concern."

"I see," said the other, and shot him a swift glance.

"Like most casual acquaintances of Ruggles, he had taken the boy for a young American tourist, probably a student."

"They chatted for a moment or two, and then the Englishman, whose clear blue eyes had been caught by Ruggles' glance on Ruggles's newspaper, asked in his crisp, pleasant voice—

"I say, might I have a look at your paper? I can't get one this morning, and I'm awfully interested in the Balkan news."

"Of course," said Ruggles. "Keep it, if you like. I'm through reading it. What do you think's going to happen out there?"

"There's going to be a big fight," I'm afraid, and I fancy the poor old Turks will get an awful drubbing. As a matter of fact, I'm on my way out there."

Ruggles straightened up and looked at the other with a sudden interest and admiration.

"Yes. Leaving to-morrow night for Marselles, where I get a ship for Constantinople."

"You're a correspondent, perhaps?" Ruggles asked.

"No, I'm a surgeon in charge of a unit of the British Red Cross. My unit have come directly from the land, but I wanted to catch a glimpse of France."

"I see," said Ruggles; "I wish I was going."

"It's not going to be all beer and skittles," replied the other, and rose. "I'm not getting on, since I've only two days to see Paris."

"You're sure you've finished with this paper?"

"Yes, yes," Ruggles answered, sorry to have this brief encounter terminated.

"Thanks awfully, then. Good-morning, sir. Good luck," said Ruggles.

He swung off with a brisk, athletic stride in the direction of the Bois, while Ruggles looked after him with a little restlessness.

He felt strangely alone and rather depressed after the young doctor had gone, and presently got up himself and wandered down the Champ Elysees and across to the Boulevard Saint-Germain, where he lunched at a little restaurant patronized chiefly by students from the Ecole de Medicine and therefore inexpensive.

Then, judging that Darches and his unit must have finished their déjeuner, he turned his rather nervous steps towards the Gardens of the Luxembourg.

CHAPTER VI

Miss Challand opened the door, and as Ruggles wished her "good afternoon," he heard the all too familiar catch of a glimpse of Darches, as she passed swiftly from the studio into the adjoining bedroom, where he donned his coat and hat.

"I'm glad you've come," said Miss Challand. "I hate mysteries, and I can't get a word out of Darches. All this time he'll make his little wishes never to see you again and that she wrote you to that effect."

"She certainly did," answered Ruggles, much relieved to find that Darches had not attempted to prejudice her unit in his disfavor. His natural reserve and reticence, as he followed Miss Challand into the little studio.

"Now, then," said that lady, seating herself and motioning to Ruggles to do the same, "what's it all about? I'm sure that you could have done nothing that was not nice."

"If I have, I didn't mean to," Ruggles answered, warming under this kindly expression of confidence. "I guess I'd better tell you."

"I'll tell you from the start," Miss Challand said.

"I think that would be best. To tell the truth, I don't sometimes feel that I don't know much about you as I should of a young man who has been so much with my niece."

"You see, it's like this: My father worked for the Walkways Shoe Company of America."

"What capacity?" asked Miss Challand, slightly raising her eyebrows.

"I invented machines for stitching soles and shaping the uppers and the like of that," Ruggles answered. "You could hardly understand without seeing the process. He drew up a plan and might have been well fixed now if he had lived and hadn't invested his savings in good-for-nothing mining shares and the like. He wanted me to learn the shoe business from the bottom up, so I started in the shops."

"In the factory where the shoes were made?"

"Yes. I learned the whole process."

"I see. Not a half-bad idea if it decides to go in for trade, though I must say I think he might have looked ed a little higher for you, especially in a country like America, where I understand that there are so many business opportunities."

"I guess you don't quite understand, Miss Challand," said Ruggles. "The Walkways Shoe Company is one of the biggest industrial concerns in the United States. Our factories cover over ten acres of ground, and you could shoe the whole population of Paris with our annual output of high-class shoes. But that ain't the point just now. Some day I'll show you the figures. What I was going to say is that there seemed a better chance for a live young fellow to get on in the retail branch than to become the manager of a shoe-shop."

"But surely you would never care to become the manager of a shoe-shop?" said Miss Challand.

Ruggles stared at her dazedly, doubting that he could have heard aright. Not care to become the manager of one of the Walkways Company's splendid stores, with some dozen salesmen and saleswomen, cash, bookkeepers, "keepers" of the delivery department, and others, under his immediate orders? He was to become directly the boss of his present ambition! Was the woman "barmy"? What did she expect, anyhow? That he was going to make one bound from the foot of customer's chair to the seat of the general manager? He felt bewildered for a moment, then, reflecting that she was English and a woman, and, as both, scarcely to be expected to have any conception of modern retail methods, he answered her with the smile which had seldom failed him in critical moments—

Loss From Forest Fires

Taking Tremendous Toll of Canadian National Wealth

A message sent out by the Canadian Forestry Association says:

One of the most disastrous forest fires seasons in recent years is taking a tremendous toll of Canadian national wealth. With the exception of a small area in Northern Ontario, practically all the fires cleaned off the timber crops on lands that are used for agriculture. Some lands grow only one crop, and that is wood. Once stripped these areas lie waste for half a century or more before they can be put to production for all time to come, and another season of barrenness is thereby added to the nation's great economic loss.

Contrary to public impression, every forest fire is a direct blow for the provincial or federal treasury, for the reason that more than 90 per cent. of the forest lands of Canada are public-owned. Licenses issued are for public co-operation. More than seven million dollars a year are taken in taxes for forest areas by the provincial and Dominion governments.

No Real Distress in Alberta

Calgary, Alberta. Investigations have been conducted by the provincial government into the conditions of the farmers in the drought-stricken districts in the southern end of the province, with the result that it has been shown that there is no real distress arising from crop failure, and that the government will not be required to furnish very much assistance to families. However, it will be necessary to provide feed in many cases.

"Pa, what is a cynic?"

"A cynic, my boy, is a man who hates to see the other fellow enjoying himself. Don't be one."

Cuba Terrified By Voodoo Worshippers

Canibalistic Practice Resulted in Death of Three Children

Havana, Cuba.—With the recent outbreak of cannibalistic practices by voodoo worshippers, which have resulted in the death of at least three innocent children and a half dozen of the voodooists, the latter by the Lynch law for the first time in the country's history, fathers and mothers are living in constant fear that their little ones may be sacrificed away by the superstitious negroes to be offered up in sacrifice to Changó, the terrible god, to whom they are called in the Catillan language.

The voodooists are divided into various sects, each with its separate god. The latter include Balaguero, of which; Eleusa, god of injury; Olurun, god of misery, and Changó, the terrible god, to whom human sacrifices are made.

Changó, according to the voodoo belief, was the son of Olurun and Anaguan. He was slain by Eleusa, the god of injury, and ascended into Heaven from a Celba, or god tree, in the month of May. It is in the month of May, therefore, that the Brujos observe their holy week, when Changó is expected to make a week's visit to the earth, descending by the Celba, has sacred tree, always on Monday.

The followers of Eleusa do not directly offer human sacrifice, although their healers sacrifice the lives of some patient by giving them poisonous concoctions. However, a very serious case for some ailments, in order to restore to health some other patient. Eleusa, being the god of injury, his followers believe that good can come to one person only through injury to another.

For Benefit Of Farmers Merchants' Bank Establishes Rural Service Department in Western Provinces

As an evidence of the forward movement being taken by the banks in lending assistance to the farmers may be cited the fact that the Merchants' Bank of Canada has recently established a Rural Service Department for the western provinces. One of the efforts of this department will be to assist especially in alleviating conditions due to the feed shortage. It is now announced, that Mr. James L. Clarke, formerly manager of the bank's branch at Soderburg, Alta., Oct. 1, 1914, and Grenfell, Sask., has been appointed manager of the new department.

Mr. Clarke is well qualified for his new position, having had extensive experience both as a banker and farmer. For many years he conducted the Lydale Stock Farm at Soderburg, where he acquired practical knowledge of mixed farming. Mr. Clarke will now devote his time and energies to the study of western conditions, and more particularly to problems vital to the farmer and rancher. Farmers' loans and stockmen may feel free to consult with Mr. Clarke either by letter or by a personal interview. His office is located at 1825 Scarth Street, Regina.
